

San Antonio Garden Center
2011 Floral Design School
Registration Form

Classes will meet 1-4pm each Tuesday on these dates:

October 4
October 11
October 18

October 25
November 1
November 8

Location: San Antonio Garden Center, 3310 N. New Braunfels at Funston, 78209

Instructor: James Blik

James will teach the principles of design, including mechanics, line, and form. His philosophy is "you need to learn the rules and the basics, before you break them". As a designer, he understands the creative process of floral design and encourages breaking the rules once the basics are understood.

James holds an Associate Degree in Retail floriculture, a Bachelor of Science in Horticulture, and a Masters Degree in Agriculture from Ohio State University. He is a juried member of the American Institute of Floral Designers, the American Academy of Floriculture and the Society of American Florists. James also teaches floral design for the continuing education department of North East Independent School District.

Fee: $135, payable in advance to San Antonio Garden Center.

Fee covers containers and all of the fresh flowers and greenery you will need to take home a finished project each week. Instructional hand-outs will also be distributed.

Plastic boxes and starter tools will be available for sale at the first class for $10.
